The Cyclemic™ is an orange and black Aeromic™ reshaped with a "J" curve at the end to help drain the sweat away from the frame, giving greater reliability in the face of some of the sweatiest instructors on the planet - Cycling Class Instructors! This is because, as a "no impact" class, they tend to keep their heads in a fixed leaning forward position and don't have the freedom of other group fitness program instructors to move about and "aerate" the mic capsule as they teach. This latest version delivers more voice power than ever before and is made for the digital processing age with a lower sensitivity. Cyclemic™ CM11LS - your best bet for handling sweat!

To ensure Cyclemic™ compatibility, ensure your transmitter has the format of plug panels shown:
